A UNIQUE RECORD

Not Another Like It in Our Broad Republic.

To give positive home testimony in every locality is of itself unanswerable proof of merit; but when we add to this the continued endorsement from people who testified years ago no evidence can be stronger. A Barre citizen gratefully acknowledges the good received from Doan's Kidney Pills, and when time has tested the cure we find the same hearty endorsement, with added enthusiasm and continued praise. Cases of this kind are plentiful in the work of Doan's Kidney Pills and such a record is unique in the annals of medicine.

W. A. Churchill, contractor and builder, of 35 Merchant street, Barre, Vt., says: "I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got from E. A. Brown, druggist, through our Barre newspapers in a statement given eight years ago. I used them at that time and was so greatly benefited that I kept on taking them until the symptoms of kidney complaint and weakness of the back and loins disappeared. It is now as much pleasure to recommend this valuable remedy as it was at the time when they relieved me of my pain and suffering. I have on several occasions used Doan's Kidney Pills since then and always with the same good results. They are certainly worthy of endorsement and I have advised many friends and acquaintances to use them."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, the agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's and take no other.

The Youth's Companion in 1907.

The Youth's Companion announces among the attractions of its 32 issues in 1907

Two Hundred practical papers, serviceable to young people who have their way to make in the world, helpful to their insistence on worthy ideals in every relation of life, useful in the home, particularly the regular series, "Till the Doctor Comes."

Two Hundred and Fifty capital stories—humorous stories, character stories, stories of life on the farm, in the great cities, on the sea, in the wilderness. Among them will be five serial stories by five companion favorites: Hamlin Garland, Adeline Knapp, Ralph Barbour, Grace Richmond and Holman F. Day. There will be a series also, based upon incidents in American history, illustrative of life and times in America from the first colonial planting to the close of the Civil war.

One Thousand short notes giving concisely, clearly and accurately the important news of the times in public affairs, and in the fields of science and industry.

Three Hundred contributors giving assurance that every need and every taste among Companion readers will be satisfied. Governor Folk of Missouri, Edward Everett Hale, Margaret Deland, Col. T. W. Higginson, Commander Eva Booth of the Salvation Army, Gen. A. W. Greely and Ion Perdicaris are among them.

Two Thousand one-minute stories, anecdotes, bits of humor—sketches which take not more than a minute to read. They are always new, always well told, and are in great quest by preachers and after-dinner speakers.

A full announcement of the new volume will be sent with sample copies of the paper to any address on request. The new subscriber for 1907 who sends $1.75 for the new volume at once will receive free all the remaining issues for 1906, including the double holiday number, also the Companion's four-page hanging calendar for 1907, lithographed in twelve colors and gold.

Subscribers who get new subscriptions will receive $10,000.00 in cash and many other special awards. Send for information. The Youth's Companion, 144 Berkeley street, Boston, Mass.

Farmers' Union Growing.

There is no existence in American organization based almost exactly upon the same principles as the labor unions of the wage-workers in various crafts—a farmers' organization. At the present moment it has 280,000 members in the United States. It is nearly three years since it really started, but it has local and state organizations in every state in the Union except Nevada and five of the New England states.

"The College Widow" has played but one "return date" in Washington where George Ade's comedy was originally presented a year ago last September. It was Christmas week and although the official life of the town was not present in great numbers, owing to the congressional holiday recess, the play was received with open-armed warmth. President Roosevelt, who entertained Mr. Ade at Oyster Bay last summer and who delights in an American play as in everything else American, saw the comedy for the first time. Before visiting the opera house next Friday evening "The College Widow" will have been seen in most of the larger cities of the country, having to its credit, besides the all-season run in New York, engagements of ten weeks in Boston and seventeen in Chicago.

Made Happy for Life.

Great happiness came into the home of S. C. Blair, school superintendent, at St. Albans, Vt., when his little daughter was restored from the dread complaint he names. He says: "My little daughter had St. Vitus dance, which yielded to no treatment, but grew steadily worse, until as a last resort we tried Electric Bitters, and I rejoice to say that three bottles effected a complete cure." Quick, sure cure for nervous complaints, general debility, female weakness, impoverished blood and malaria. Guaranteed by the Red Cross pharmacy. Price 50c.

SNAPSHOTS OF THE STYLES

What sleeves will be like—Fishes. Sleaze fashions run in two extremes—the tight monaquette sleeve, trimmed with buttons and braid, and the very full sleeve, with the material set in box plaits and tied over the elbow with a huge knot of ribbon.

Elbow sleeves appear on some of the fur coats, with deep cuffs that turn down to the wrist when required. This style is both convenient and smart.

The schu effect is to be popular this winter for evening wear, the ends of the schu being nearly long enough to reach to the hem of the skirt in front, while the "shawl point" at the back is admired.

Instep is the correct length for the trotting dress, which is the same all the world over—a frock to walk in in all weather and all kinds of dirt.

Colored crepe de chine underwear is considered the height of lingerie luxury.

The hat illustrated is one of the happy creations of Caroline Hebeau, a famous milliner of Paris. It is of soft short haired beaver in an exquisite shade of burgundy. The spoon crown was reached with large roses, toning from dull pink to a deep mauve. The attractiveness of the model lies in the coloring.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

LABOR BRIEFS.

Glass bottle blowers voted down a proposition to start co-operative plants. They have $375,000 in the treasury. More than half the membership of the San Francisco Cigarmakers' union is back at work.

Montreal unionists are preparing to erect the finest labor temple in North America. It will cost $700,000.

The American Flint Glass Workers' union has a balance in the treasury of $110,006.20, a gain of $29,782.94 since the last report.

The labor organizations of this country gained 1,204 new unions last year, embracing a membership of more than 300,000 individuals. The record for this year bids fair to double that number.

Chinese Labor Unprofitable.

Sir Percy Fitzpatrick declared lately that the whole prosperity of South Africa depended on the mining industry. If the mines could not get a sufficient supply of Chinese labor they would go down, and the country that depended on the mines for its revenue would be bankrupt. The I. L. P. at Pretoria has been working out the question and shows that the whole revenue at present yielded by the 10 per cent duty on the profits of the mining industry is only $2,000,000. Meantime the cost of keeping the Chinese in order is daily increasing. Round Johannesburg alone there is a cordon of 2,000 men in the pay of the government doing patrol work, and the people are not safe even then. Thus the whole $2,000,000 is spent by the government on the Chinese. Where does the profit come in?—London Labor Leader.

The Right to Boycott.

The right of labor unions and their sympathizers to call on their friends to withhold patronage from a nonunion tradesman has been declared legal by Justice Stanford in the District supreme court of Washington. In making this decision Justice Stanford dismissed the temporary injunction against the Bakers and Confectioners Workers' International union which had been obtained by a baker who alleged that he was being harassed by means of a systematic boycott and that many of his customers had been asked to trade elsewhere. The principle at stake, the justice suggested, was the right of individual liberty.

LABOR NOTES.

Boilermakers employed by the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad system recently received an advance of 7 per cent in their wages, making the aggregate 29 4/10 cents an hour.

Arthur M. Huddell, president of the Boston Hoisting and Portable Engineers' union and also state president, was elected second international vice president at the convention of the engineers recently held at Milwaukee.

Joel Julian Reuben, a contractor of Washington, has offered to supply 15,000 Chinese coolies to work on the Panama canal at the rate of 9 cents an hour.

The International Brewery Workers' convention recently in session at Toronto rejected a motion to withdraw from the American Federation of Labor and affiliate with the Industrial Workers of the World.

A Bank Note Curiosity.

A bank note that passed through the Chicago fire is one of the curios preserved in the Bank of England. The paper was consumed, but the ashes held together, and the printing is quite legible, and it is kept under glass. The bank paid the note.

Pasteboard Egg Trays.

The first pasteboard egg trays, divided into square compartments, such as are used so widely nowadays for transporting the perishable product of the hen, was the idea of a farmer's daughter.

Her Downy.

It is said that a London lawyer once gave as a dowry to his daughter, who married a young barrister, his briefs and interest in a chancery suit which he himself had inherited from his father.

REAL LEADERS OF LABOR.

New Political Force is Guided by the Rank and File.

"It is evident that the labor leaders represent a new political force, with which politicians will have to reckon more and more in the months just ahead."

The above from the Binghamton Press was well intended, but not happily worded, says Joseph R. Buchanan in the New York Journal.

The new political force is not the labor leaders, but the great army of labor, and every real labor leader of labor will say the same.

Workingmen, organized workingmen especially, rank and file as well as leaders, have generally made up their minds to become a factor in politics. The officials are voting what they know to be the desire of the members of the trades unions. They are simply the spokesmen of the great army of organized workers in this as in other matters related to the workers' welfare.

The labor movement has educated the wage-workers during the last twenty years to an understanding of their rights and of their power to secure those rights. It is this intelligence with which the politicians will have to reckon.

It will, of course, be left to the leaders and their lieutenants to make known the wishes of the great army of labor, but that these leaders may be "reckoned" with as politicians have "reckoned" with the other forces in politics no one need for a moment believe.

The men who are labor's chosen representatives will be guided in "the months just ahead" by what they know to be for the best interests of labor. Their fight will be for a cause and not for personal advantage, past, present and future.

If there be any exceptions to that rule they will not long remain leaders.

LABOR GETS IT AGAIN.

Montana Judge Decides Against Eight Hour Law.

Another eight hour law has received a heavy blow from a capitalistic judge. The law was declared unconstitutional notwithstanding that it is embodied in a constitutional amendment adopted by the legislature by a vote of 28,531 to 2,088. Such a little thing as this, however, does not bother a capitalistic judge when the interests of his class are at stake, suggests the Bulletin of the Clothing Trades.

This particular eight hour law covered municipal, county and state works, mines, mills and smelters. The case which called forth the decision was brought by the Livingston Trades council against the Livingston Concrete company for specific violation of the law, and the decision rendered by Judge Hendry has enraged the unions of Montana, who see their years of labor to get the law enacted go for naught.

The Montana News says, "An appeal will be taken to the supreme court, but if unsuccessful labor will have sustained its severest defeat from the hands of Montana's lawbreakers."

The Greenback.

Among the cutest of English wild birds are greenfinches, which frequent old buildings and old walls for the sake of freshly caught insects and spiders in cobwebs, personal exertion being thereby saved. They are well aware of stores in the larders of spiders' webs.

Her Downy.

It is said that a London lawyer once gave as a dowry to his daughter, who married a young barrister, his briefs and interest in a chancery suit which he himself had inherited from his father.
